

New York State Web Masters' Guild
April 2, 2004
Meeting Participants

The Web Masters' Guild conducted its first annual "Show and Tell" session at the April 2, 2004 meeting. Six state agencies presented web sites that they had or were in the process of implementing. This is a list of the presenters and their web sites, when these are available. In the instances, where no site is listed; it is either a secure site, such as the DCJS site or not yet in production, as the OFT site.

I would like to take this chance to thank each presenter. Each system was noteworthy and interesting to review.
